

PUBLICATIONS AND OTHER MEDIA

K-12 Curricular Materials

Getting to Know Korea: Resource Book for K-12 Educators

This is a book of readings for teachers seeking to acquire a deeper knowledge of Korea. Fifteen chapters cover a wide variety of topics in history, literature, the family, economics and society and social change. Available for download from The Korea Society web site.

Tales of Korea I & II

by Cathy Spagnoli

These unique resources for teaching Korean folktales were developed by professional storyteller Cathy Spagnoli. Each set consists of an audiotape and an accompanying teacher's guide. Tales of Korea I is for use at the elementary school level. Tales of Korea II is intended for use at the junior high level.

The Korea Society Curriculum Development Guide for Modern Korean Literature

by Heinz Fenkl and Bruce Fulton

This guide gives concise summaries of 11 stories spanning half a century of Korean literature. Each summary is followed by a set of questions and answers. Classes that use it will be engaged in discussions about Confucian culture, colonial oppression, the effects of war and women's issues.

Brief History of Korea: A Bird's Eye View

by Young Ick Lew

This brief overview of Korean history, from the earliest period up to the present, is written by one of Korea's leading historians. It contains a detailed chronology comparing high points in Korean history with contemporaneous developments in other countries of East Asia and the West. Brief History of Korea is suitable for both educators and young adults.

Teaching More About Korea

Each year, a collection of lesson plans for grades K–12 are prepared by participants in The Korea Society's Summer Fellowship in Korean Studies program. Every summer since the program was established, The Korea Society has selected a group of dedicated and talented educators to learn about Korea through direct experience with its people, historical landmarks and culture. Through the publication of the lesson plans they have prepared, the benefits of their time in Korea can now be shared with other teachers who want to develop their students' understanding of Korea's culture and history. Available for download from The Korea Society web site and as an on-demand, unbound printed volume.

Korea: Lessons for Elementary School

This is a collection of nine lessons designed for U.S. elementary school students. The volume features activities on the geography of Korea, a trip to Korea, cultural customs, historical symbols, trade, the 1988 Seoul Summer Olympics, visual arts and storytelling. Hands-on activities will be especially appealing for early elementary students. Available for download from The Korea Society web site.

Korean Voices: Growing Up During a Time of Crisis

This is a literature-based teaching unit for students in junior high school. The unit is built around two novels, Year of Impossible Goodbyes (Sook Nyul Choi. Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1991) and Lost Names (Richard E. Kim. New York: Universe Books, 1998). Set in Korea near the end of World War II, the stories detail the lives of two Korean families living under the Japanese occupation of Korea, which lasted from 1910 to 1945. Year of Impossible Goodbyes also tells about life during the Russian occupation of the northern part of Korea following the surrender of Japan in World War II, from 1945 to 1948. Throughout the 19 lessons of the unit, students will gain thorough knowledge of and appreciation for Korean culture and history. Available for download from The Korea Society web site.

Korea: Lessons for High School Social Studies Courses

This collection of lesson plans serves as an introduction to Korea's distinctive historical and cultural legacy for English speaking students. It is organized thematically for the convenience of teachers who are interested in incorporating lessons on Korea into their social studies classes. Each of the 12 lesson plans in the book can be taught in conjunction with lessons about other geographical regions. They also can be modified to suit a variety of classroom subjects. In addition to photographic materials to enhance the content of each lesson, the book has a reference section including a world chronological table, a list of Internet sites and a bibliography of resources. Available for download from The Korea Society web site.

Other Publications and Media

Christianity in Korea: A Conference Report

by Edward W. Poitras

This is a summary of the discussion during a two-day conference organized by The Korea Society. The conference was held in New York City in September 1997 in cooperation with Union Theological Seminary and with financial support from the Henry Luce Foundation. Presenters gave the following lectures: “Re-examining the history of Korean Christianity”; “Korean Christian Growth”; “The Impact of Christianity in Korea”; “The Uniqueness of Korean Christianity”; “Women in Korean Christian History”; and “Church and State” in Korea. The report includes abstracts of the presentations, biographies of the presenters and an annotated bibliography.

Living Through the Forgotten War: Portrait of Korea

edited by Patrick Dowdey, with contributions by Bruce Cumings, John Kie-chiang Oh and Wei Hsin Gui

Living Through the Forgotten War: Portrait of Korea, the exhibition from which this catalog takes its name, is a selection of photographs about everyday life in Korea during the Korean war, an aspect of the conflict not familiar to most Americans. The selected pictures are drawn primarily from the U.S. National Archive. The catalog introduction, by Patrick Dowdey and Wei Hsin Gui, describes the main theme of the exhibit and explains how the pictures were selected. Essays by Bruce Cumings and John Kie-chiang Oh give two different perspectives on the war and the exhibit content. The exhibition is represented in the catalog by 29 full page or double page duotone prints. The Mansfield Freeman Center for East Asian Studies at Wesleyan University, where the exhibit was originally developed and shown, collaborated with The Korea Society on the exhibition tour and catalog.

The Korean War Forgotten No More: A Conference Report

by Donald N. Clark

In commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the outbreak of the Korean War, The Korea Society, Georgetown University and Korea University (Seoul) collaborated in presenting a conference on June 23-25, 2000. The conference explored the legacy of the war from a broad spectrum of political, strategic, economic and cultural perspectives. Major financial support was provided by the International Foundation for Korea University and U.S. News & World Report. The “Forgotten No More” theme of the conference was intended as an assertion that the events of the Korean War had meaning, and the tremendous sacrifices by those involved were not in vain. Over 30 leading scholars, journalists, officials, and other experts on Korean affairs made the following presentations: “Background — The Korean War Revisited”; “War As Crucible — Development of Korean Nationalism and Identity”; “Concordant Discord — Reviving Suppressed Memories of the Korean War”; “Current Perspectives on the DPRK”; “The Tragedies of the Korean War — No-Gun-Ri”; “U.S.-R.O.K. Relations — Cost and Benefits of the Korean War”; “Korea and Her Neighbors — Future of the Korean Peninsula”; and “Reflections on the Long-Term Impact of the Korean War”. The report includes abstracts of the presentations, biographies of the presenters and an annotated bibliography.

The Korea Society Annual Report

This annual publication provides detailed summaries of the programs and activities of The Korea Society. It also includes financial statements as well as lists of supporters, board members and staff.

The Korea Society Quarterly

The Korea Society Quarterly is the official publication of The Korea Society. It is designed to promote broader public awareness of past and current developments in Korea and U.S.-Korea relations. The Quarterly features articles on a broad range of topics from the historical to the contemporary, the economic to the artistic, and the political to the literary. Each issue features several articles, which are either exclusive to the Quarterly or reprinted from less accessible sources, as well as in-depth coverage of past and upcoming programs of The Korea Society.

The United States and the Two Koreas: Growing Tensions on the Peninsula

With coproduction support and assistance from The Korea Society, America Abroad Media has developed a one-hour program for public radio that explores security issues on the Korean Peninsula. The program has been broadcast in major markets across the U.S., including KQED in San Francisco, CA and WAMU in Washington, DC. It is divided into four segments:

Segment #1: “History” Narrated by Garrick Utley

An archival audio tour of the history of Korean security and America’s relationship with a unified, as well as a divided, Korean peninsula provides listeners with historical perspective on the 100-year relationship between the United States and South Korea and context for the current standoff with North Korea.

Segment #2: “Dialogue” Hosted by Steve Roberts

Undergraduate students at Korea University share their perceptions of the United States and Americans, the U.S. role on the Korean peninsula, anti-Americanism in Korea and the future of U.S.-Korea relations.

Segment #3: “Eyewitness: The Nuclear Crisis of 1993-94” Narrated by Marvin Kalb

Robert Gallucci, Joel Wit, and Donald P. Gregg reflect on the decision-making in the period leading up to the signing of the 1994 Agreed Framework.

Segment #4: “2003 and Beyond: U.S.-Korea Relations and the Nuclear Question” Hosted by Margaret Warner

Former government officials with experience on the Korea Peninsula examine Korean security in the aftermath of the Framework agreement through to the present standoff with North Korea.

Web Sites

www.koreasociety.org

The Korea Society's main web site features information on the Society's mission and programs. It also includes a complete archive of The Korea Society Quarterly and selected titles from The Korea Society's curricular materials.

www.koreak12.org (www.korea-k12.org, www.korea-for-k12.org)

This web site, currently under construction, is to be a major resource for K-12 teachers and students. At first, it will contain the curricular materials now on The Korea Society's main web site. It will rapidly expand to serve as a clearinghouse for teaching materials on Korea, including lesson plans, readings, statistics and maps, with different access points for teachers as well as for different levels of students.

