

THE SECURITY OF THE KOREAN PENINSULA

GRADES: 9-12

AUTHOR: Lamont C. Colucci

SUBJECT: Social Studies

TIME REQUIRED: 4 to 5 class periods

OBJECTIVES:

1. Understand Korea's role in the Cold War
2. Discuss how recent events have either exacerbated or ameliorated the situation on the Korean peninsula

MATERIALS REQUIRED:

- Copies of appendices 1-10

BACKGROUND:

The teacher should review the brief history of the conflict in Korea from 1945 to 1953.

PROCEDURE:

1. Distribute copies of appendix 1 and discuss the United States' interest in the East Asian region in the context of the Cold War.
2. Discuss the state of the division on the Korean peninsula, the Joint Security Area (JSA), the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and the armistice and truce that has continued to exist. Distribute copies of appendices 2-7. Students should divide into groups of four and consider why the DMZ is such a sensitive area and what the purpose of the tunnels are, and using the diagrams, describe the DMZ as an area. Each group should put their ideas on poster boards and later compare them with those of the other groups.
3. Distribute copies of appendices 8 and 9 and describe the events of July 17, 1997. As a class, discuss possible reasons why the North would attack the South like this?
4. Assign critical thinking essay topic: If North Korea were to start another conflict, what should the United States' role be?

EVALUATION:

- Grades should be based on the degree of cooperation, participation and comprehension as exhibited in the essays and the presentations on the poster boards.

ENRICHMENT:

- Discussion topics: Should the U.S. keep their armed forces in Korea? What role does China and Japan play in the Korean situation?
